A MIND OF YOUR OWN.—Young men should have minds of their own. We should rather be called wilful, stubborn and unyielding, than to be eternally vacillating between one thing and another. You must be decided in your own minds—but we pray you to decide right—and stick to your principles. He who is continually asking the opinion of this one and the other, will never accomplish any thing. Every body sees differently and decides with different motives or no motives at all. Did you ever hear the anecdote of the painter, who resolved to paint a picture that would please everybody? With unremitting labor and skill he accomplished his task and exposed to public inspection, requesting every spectator to mark with a brush, whatever part he saw defective. The picture as a whole was applauded; but each one wishing to display his taste and judgement marked whatever he thought might be improved by the painter. Judge of the artist's surprise to find at night, his picture a complete daub. There was not a stroke that had not been touched by the brush. But not satisfied with this trial the painter exposed the same picture to the inspection of the public, requesting all who discovered beauties in it to mark it with a brush. At night he found his picture a perfect blot. Every line that had been condemned the day before was now approved. "Well," exclaimed the artist, "I now find that the best way to please one half the world is, not to mind what the other half says; since what are faults in the eyes of those shall be by others regarded as beauties."

Learn by this anecdote the folly of soliciting the opinions of every body. Mark out for yourselves a straight course and pursue it. Be ever so upright, and some will condemn you. But you would do better to be censured by a few, than to be known as a fool by all; for he who has no mind of his own, is never consulted in any thing of importance, or thought to be worth noticing.

DYING IN MUSIC.—A bird in captivity has been known to sing more and louder than usual, until it fell dead at the bottom of the cage, to solicit attention to its deficiency of food, from the want of which it at last perished; and another instance is related where the little creature sang earnestly when surrounded by the flames of a burning house. Under such circumstances we may be allowed to suppose that an attentive ear might have detected a variation in the notes from the usual song; for under much less exciting circumstances a change is known to occur in the modulation.

MORE ANNEXATION.—The Mississippi in its onward course has forced our contemporary of the Helena Journal to change his location. In his paper of the 2d inst, the editor of the Journal says—"Where our office was two weeks ago, now runs the Mississippi. Out of respect for this river we had to leave, and the building we occupied had to be moved."

From the account given in the papers of the murder of Mr. Reilmacher and wife, at Philadelphia, on Thursday night last, it was one of the most brutal and outrageous murders that we ever heard of. They had only been married two years, and it is rumored that this murder was committed, out of revenge, by a former lover of Mrs. R's.

A very Extensive Supply.
IN Offering this stock of goods to the inhabitants of Newport and vicinity, I am aware that the satisfaction of making a good bargain is incomplete—it is not realized when the purchaser does not know that he is receiving for his money the very best return. To give, in this case full assurance, I will say, that whilst the above goods are too valuable to allow of being purchased at low prices than other goods in market, I will notwithstanding, sell them at such prices as cannot fail to secure a continuance of that custom which I already have so largely and so liberally received.

THE DAILY NEWS.

Newport.

WEDNESDAY MARCH 29, 1848.

BY O. F. JACKSON, 97-THAMES-ST.

Advertisers will please bear in mind that the circulation of the DAILY NEWS is more than DOUBLE that of the Daily Herald, and greater than the combined circulation of the Daily and Weekly Herald. As one proof of this fact, the list of Letters remaining in the Post-Office is advertised in the NEWS, as BY LAW REQUIRED.

Two Weeks Later From Europe.

The Caledonia arrived at Boston on Monday evening, at nine o'clock, having left Liverpool on Sunday the 12th inst.

The revolution in France is confirmed. The movement which commenced at Paris has spread throughout the country. The Provisional Government is everywhere recognized. The army, the navy, the civil officers, have given in their adhesion. The press is unanimous in its favor, and all parties are rallying around it. The Ministers of the Foreign Governments have generally recognized it or indicated their desire to remain on friendly terms with it, and the whole people are determined to maintain it.

The Bank of France is opened, business has been to a great extent resumed, and astonishing progress has been made in settling the new order of things and in establishing public tranquillity.

Mr. Rush, the American Minister, was the first to offer his congratulations to the Provisional Government, and to assure it of the sympathy and friendship of the United States. Lord Normandy, the British Minister, followed. He communicated to M. de Lamartine dispatches from Lord Palmerston, declaring that England fully recognized the right of France to change her form of government.

The deposed monarch, with the greater part of his family, have found an asylum in England.

The House of Peers has been overthrown. Slavery has been abolished in the French Colonies.

A report was raised that the Provisional Government had determined upon a war with Austria and the boundary of the Rhine, but it was promptly contradicted, and the government put forth a declaration of its sentiments strongly in favor of a peaceful policy.

Belgium manifests no disposition to fraternize with the new republic. On the contrary, the Chambers took immediate measures to maintain the independence of the country, and to sustain the existing government.

Great excitement was caused in Prussia. In Austria the news from France created great consternation. The resignation of Metternich was reported.

In Bavaria, the people have risen and extorted a constitution from the King.

Sicily is still in a state of insurrection, and the King still holds out. From other parts of Italy the news is not important.

All the diplomatic agents abroad have been recalled.

A decree is issued directing the electoral assemblies of the cantons to form a constitution. The number of representatives is to be 900, including those from Algeria and the colonies. The decree fixes the suffrage upon the most liberal basis.

The National Constituent Assembly is to meet on the 20th of April.

Jerome Bonaparte is to be appointed Governor of the Invalides.

A deputation of more than 250 citizens of the United States waited on the Provisional Government. Mr. Goodrich, in the name of his countrymen, presented an address, to which M. Arago replied. They presented to him the American and the French flags floating from the same staff. The Ministers accepted them as an emblem of the friendship of the two nations, and placed them in the Salle des Receptions.

Louis Philippe landed at Newhaven, England, on the 3d of March. All the members of his family, except the Duke and Duchess d'Anguleme and the Prince and Princess Joinville, who are in Algiers, and the Duchess of Orleans and her children, are in the same asylum.

The Ministers and many of the principal officers of Louis Philippe's government have also fled to England, where all the exiles appear to have met with sympathy their project for increasing the income tax, almost without a struggle. Commercial affairs have been depressed in consequence of the great political convulsions. Cotton has declined 1-4 to 1-2.

The quotations of flour are a little higher. The iron trade is not so buoyant as when the Cambria sailed.

The money market has, of course, felt the influence of the foreign news, and Consols have fallen nearly 3 per cent within the fortnight.

Some attempts at riot have been made in London, Manchester, Edinburgh, Glasgow and other parts of England, but they have resulted in nothing serious.

The North river is now entirely free of ice, and the steamboats have commenced their regular trips to Albany. The Roger Williams commenced her trips last evening, as one of the line boats, commanded by Capt. B. E. Woolley. The Oregon is to commence her trips on this river in a few days, where she will run during the season.

The Vanderbilt and Massachusetts now form the line to Stonington, but a boat is building in New York, to be called the "Connecticut," and, when completed, is to take the place of the Massachusetts, and the line during the summer, will be composed of the Vanderbilt and Connecticut. The dimensions of the Connecticut are about the same as those of the Vanderbilt, and she is to be fitted up in a similar manner.

The Knickerbocker is now undergoing repairs preparatory to taking her place on the Norwich line, which boat, together with the Worcester, will comprise the line. The Worcester has recently undergone thorough repairs, had new boilers put into her &c., and will now go much faster than she ever could before, which is attributed, in part, to her boilers being placed farther aft than formerly, which brings her bows out of water farther.

But neither the Norwich nor Stonington line will be able to compete with the Fall River line, with two such boats as the Bay State and Empire State. A superior boat to the Bay State never crossed Long Island Sound, but the Empire State is to be as much superior to the Bay State as it is possible to make her. This boat will be ready to take her place in the line in June, it is thought, until which time the Governor will continue in the line.

LATER FROM MEXICO.—The steamship Massachusetts and ship Danvers, from Vera Cruz, arrived at New Orleans on the 20th, bringing advices to the 12th inst.

An armistice was signed, stipulating that the Americans should not occupy any part of the country not at present in their hands.

The collection of taxes is suspended, except on gaming houses, liquor shops, and places of amusement.

When elections are held in any place occupied by Americans they are to withdraw from the place till the election is over.

There is also a number of other articles, giving to the Mexicans almost the entire right to the government.

Gen. Lane and troops left the capital on the 7th, and on the fourth day arrived at Sequelaphan. Before arriving there, however, information reached him that a body of 200 Lancers was waiting their arrival to attack them. They arrived at the edge of the town without opposition, but when passing the first house were suddenly assailed with a terrible volley. The enemy, from escopete batteries on the inside, supposed they could gain an easy victory. The doors of the first house were, however, burst in a twinkling and all the assailants found within were killed. The same was the case with the next house. The Americans determined to drive the enemy from their defences. House after house was taken by a sanguinary struggle, until at last the town was cleared. Not satisfied with the result, the Lancers collected a large body outside the town, where they were attacked by Gen. Lane and Col. Hays, who cut them up in a terrible manner. One hundred of the enemy were killed, and but one American killed and four wounded. Fifty prisoners were taken; among them Lieutenant Col. Montanez and captain Montanez, his son, and Lieut. Martiney. Father Jarnuta escaped.

It is rumored that Gens. Pillow and Worth are restored to their commands.

The debarkation of our troops was celebrated on the 9th.

Some difficulty had arisen at the capital for four days until the armistice could be concluded. All the members of the Ayuntamiento sent in their resignations, and the Archbishop of the capital presented a written protest against the heavy assessment on Church property.

Santa Anna is at Tehuacan. On the 12th government gave him a passport, supposing it to be his intention to leave the country; but in this he acted with his accustomed duplicity, his object being to put himself at the head of a large body of troops.

A Court Martial has been convened by General Worth.

Advices had been received from Queretaro, stating that Congress was slow in coming together, only twenty-one members being present at the last meeting.

The revenues of France in 1839 amounted to 1,156,329,168, equal to about 231 millions of dollars, while the expenditures were so large as to leave but a balance of $7,700,000 in the Treasury. The taxes produce about 36 1-3 millions out of every 40 1-3 millions. The public debt of the country on the 1st of January, was 195,916,801 francs held by 264,833 persons, composed of Consols or Rentes to the amount of 186,110,978 francs, and life annuities 5,760,660. The balance of about 350,000 francs accumulated and remains in another form of debt not stated. The history of the French revenue and debt, for which we have no space at present, is curious enough. In 1788 the former was only about 102 millions of dollars, and the expenditure exceeded it by twenty-five millions. The great expense of the wars of the Republic were defrayed in great part by confiscations, contributions and requisitions, imposed on the conquered countries, and by the seizure of the church properties at home. Still there was at times an alarming deficiency. In 1799 the expenditure was nearly double the receipts, which was met by borrowing as largely. In 1813 the public debt amounted to three thousand millions of francs and in the interval between 1834 and 1812 the expenditure exceeded the revenue by about the average of thirty millions of dollars per annum. The actual debt of France has greatly increased since 1839; many new loans have been contracted within a few years past, and the aggregate debt is set down at this moment as equivalent to one thousand and thirteen millions of dollars, if not more! The interest on the unliquidated debt is of itself 50 millions of dollars per annum. The principal source from which the Government has replenished its treasury were? Direct taxes francs 478 millions; Registration, stamps &c. 208 millions; forests, 24 millions; customs, 105 millions; Post office, 53 millions; small taxes, 13 millions, indirect, &c. 190 millions.

The sale of snuff, segars, and tobacco, which is a government monopoly, and which comes under the head of indirect taxes, produces 116 millions; the lotteries yielding 15 millions, and salt produce 69 millions more.

MR. EDITOR:—You are aware that it is the fashion for clergymen to take the tour of Europe, and our friend Rev. Mr. Bellows has made known to his congregation, his intention of leaving for the Continent on the first of April. His object in going is not [as he announced from his pulpit] for the purpose of improving his health, which is remarkably good, but to afford himself a six months respite from the incessant labors of ten years most devoted ministry. He will take his departure with the best wishes of the attached flock to whom he ministers, and doubtless return again with new and fresh stores of learning and information, which will appear interspersed through his writings, and perhaps be given to the world in the form of a book. No Clergyman of our city is more popular, and few perform a larger amount of good deeds, although it is perhaps inviolable to particularize where all are so actively engaged in promoting both the spiritual and temporal good of the population of our city.

A church has recently been formed in the very heart of that hitherto much neglected neighborhood, the "Five Points." It is said the attendance is already good. If the formation of it shall, in any measure, succeed in improving the moral condition of this wretched part of our city, too much praise cannot be awarded to the christian and philanthropic Howard, who started, and has carried on so nobly this pious undertaking. Yours most truly,

The following article should have appeared yesterday. It was overlooked on the "gally," in the hurry of making up the form.

The ship Omega, of and from Liverpool, with 315 passengers, has been wrecked near St. Johns.

She had been at the mercy of the wave for the space of a week, when the barque Aurora, of Anglesea, bound for St. John, N. B., fell in with her, and took off about half the passengers, and would have taken the whole, with, of course, a sufficient quantity of provisions for their subsistence, had not violent gales sprung up and separated the two vessels. In returning from the transport of these passengers, the Omega lost her pinnace containing the second mate and four men.

Afterwards—on the 14th February—the brig Barbara, of Halifax, from New York bound to Cork, fell in with the Omega, and had taken off all but thirty of the crew and passengers, which thirty included the captain and mate. She subsequently made Renewe, which the captain took to be Cap. Brenton.

The wind shortly afterward veered more to the eastward, and the brig again got round the point, when she surged against the cliff and stove her bow. The master of the Barbara, both mates, a woman and a child took to the small boat and drifted off. In about four minutes after the boat had left, the vessel fell over on her side and went down carrying with her about one hundred and fifteen souls.

The Steamship Cambria left her wharf, at Jersey City at noon on Saturday. She carried out, in specie, £3,278 to Liverpool, and £10,000 to Halifax. She had 65 passengers in all—56 for Liverpool, amongst whom were Prince Lucien Murat.

THE LATE VIOLATION OF SECRECY.—The Senate Committee appointed to investigate into the publication of the treaty and the accompanying documents, met on Friday and examined the correspondent who communicated them to the New York Herald. His testimony positively exculpated the Senate, its officers and printer. There was a protracted and excited debate in Executive session, on this subject, and the Committee was enlarged to five. The inquiry will be prosecuted until the fact is definitely fixed.

A person suspected, with strong grounds, as the robber of the President of the Chester County Bank, has been apprehended and taken to Philadelphia.

A SENATOR IMPRISONED.—Senator Soule of Louisiana was lately sentenced to twenty-four hours imprisonment and to pay a fine of $100, by Judge Mc Henry of New Orleans, for contempt of Court.

The steamer Governor did not arrive here yesterday morning till about half past 9 o'clock. She was detained by a thick fog.

The New York True Sun made its appearance in new type on Monday. This paper is one of the best of the New York dailies.

THE PHILADELPHIA MURDER.—Charles Langfeldt, a German, who was suspected of the murder of Mrs. Rademacher, has been arrested, an there appears to be but little doubt of his guilt.

CANADA.—Under the tariff of Canada, grain and flour are to be admitted into that country.

In China a man condemned to death can procure a substitute for about £50 sterling, and is often allowed to do so.

CAUTION.—The public are particularly cautioned against being imposed upon by persons that are selling preparations of Sarsaparilla which they pretend have the same qualities as Brown's Sarsaparilla and Tomato Bitters. Since these Bitters have been offered to the public, there have been no less than four different imitations got up by as many different individuals, and sold for the genuine. The good qualities of Brown's Extract of Sarsaparilla and Tomatoes, or Sarsaparilla and Tomato Bitters, is already known and appreciated by physicians and the public—particularly by those who have used them for Impurities of the Blood, bad Humors, Scrofulous diseases, Bilious affections, Costiveness, loss of appetite, &c. There has been no medicine sold that has given such general satisfaction. There cannot be the least doubt but this compound is the best alternative now in use. We have abundant proof of that fact. There have been thousands of cases of impurities of the blood cured by this medicine. Some of them have been truly wonderful, where the patients have been given over as incurable. The above compound is not merely a common extract of Sarsaparilla, but a very strong extract of the best Spanish Sarsaparilla, extracted by an entirely new apparatus, made expressly for the proprietor, and used by no other person in this country. This apparatus ensures the whole medical qualities of the most rare-

One of the most important effects of the recent progress of Science is the alliance of Chemistry with Physiology. By which a new and unexpected light has been thrown upon the vital processes of animals. For this we are indebted, chiefly to the German, and French chemists. We have now a clear understanding of the different action of stimulants, poisons, and remedial agents, and the long derided theory of the blood being the portion of the system upon which the latter should act, is now a demonstrated truth. The great object, therefore, is to ascertain what remedy will act most directly upon the constituents of the blood when in the act of combination. Experience, observation, and a cloud of witnesses, establish the fact that SAND'S SASSAPARILLA is at the very head of this class. Cancer, scrofula, salt rheum, erysipelas, leprosy, ringworm, mercurial diseases, suppuration of the glands, swellings of the joints, and all the diseases of the muscles and tissues, together with general debility of the system, yield to this unfailing purifier of the blood—for the blood is the channel through which disease finds its way to the various organs of the body.

Prepared and sold by A. B. & D. SANDS, Druggists, 100 Fulton St. N. Y. Sold also by Dr. R. R. Hazard and R. J. Taylor for Newport, by J. Russell, Fall River, by C. Dyer, for sale by R. J. TAYLOR.
